Storm and Flood.

TERRIBLE SCENES IN GREAT BRITAIN—CEMETERIES FLOODED, GRAVES TORN OPEN AND COFFINS SWEPT AWAY—MANUFACTORIES AND MINES STOPPED WORKING—SUFFERING OF THE POOR.

[From the London Daily News, July 15.]

Accounts reach us from various parts of Lancashire and Chesire of the serious effects of the storm of the last few days. Our Manchester correspondent, writing last evening, says: Yesterday the heavy falls of rain in this neighborhood, which had continued with but slight intermission for several days and nights past, suddenly ceased about three P. M., and the weather continued fine until about 9 o'clock this morning. The rain during Thursday and Friday was accompanied with thunder and lightning, and at intervals the downpour was such as is seldom exceeded during the most terrific storms. The Medlock and Mersey seriously overflowed their banks, and the escaping floods from them have done immense damage. The river Medlock had begun to rise rapidly at 1 o'clock on Saturday, and soon afterwards evidences of the ravages it was committing along its banks presented themselves in the shape of household furniture, planks, and various other kinds of property, which floated down the stream. Soon after 3 o'clock the flood made a clean breach over the stone bridge in London street, Manchester, and subsequently several streets were overflowed, in some places to a depth of many feet, and in some of the buildings, which are dwelling houses, the inmates were driven up stairs to escape the water, and made prisoners for many hours in the upper stories. A very ghastly aspect was given to affairs during the afternoon by the appearance in the stream of a considerable number of dead bodies, some of them in coffins and some of them without, which had been washed away from the Roman Catholic portion of the cemetery near to the Philip's Park. The flood had swept over a portion of this burial ground several miles higher up the river, and committed great devastation, washing away head-stones and other memorials from the graves. In some cases the soil had simply been washed from the graves; in others the lids of coffins had been removed, exposing the faces of the dead; and in others, as already mentioned, the coffins and the bodies they contained were entirely washed away. The police succeeded, with the aid of grapling irons, and by other means, in recovering a number of the bodies floating down the river, and such of them as were without coffins were removed to the police station in shells. The flood in its course thro' Ancoat's vale washed away three cottage houses. The flood found its way into a large dye works, in Embden vale, and into the extensive machine shop of Messrs. Wren and Hopkinson, which was flooded to the height of two stories. The damage will be very considerable. A great quantity of calicoes and fustian goods were swept out of the dye house into the bed of the river, and remained there, forming a great pile and very serious obstruction to the water course. Great excitement was naturally created in the portions of the city thus flooded. During the early part of yesterday afternoon the Gorton reservoir, near Manchester, belonging to the Manchester Corporation, burst, and an immense volume of water flowed upon the Sheffield Railway, very seriously impeding the traffic for a time, besides doing great damage. A large quantity of water escaping from this reservoir swept over the populous village of Fallowfield, flooded the turnpike road to the depth of several feet, and filling and damaging the cottages of the poor, besides doing much other damage.

The river Mersey, which passes through Stockport, and comes within a few miles of Manchester, burst its banks during the afternoon at a point near to Didsbury church, and has placed a large track of country on the Lancashire side of the under water. There is an artificial embankment for some miles along this side of the river. At Didsbury in some places it is fifteen to twenty feet high, and of considerable breadth and strength, and during the afternoon the water began to wash over the top and soon made for itself a new channel, which every moment increased in depth and breadth till the whole valley formed an immense lake, in some places as much as six to eight feet deep, and covering, besides meadows and pasture lands, fields filled with grain, potatoes and other growing crops. The damage done by the flood here and for many miles down the vale of the Mersey will be very great, and up to the present time only a very imperfect idea of it can be formed.

From Wigan we learn that much injury has been caused in the valley of the Douglas. On Saturday the river was higher than it has been known for a quarter of a century, and immense tracts of land have been laid under water. The water washed away a boundary wall in Wigan, and entered an old coal pit, whence it is feared it will reach the workings of those firms who lease the seams beneath the borough. The most strenuous efforts were made yesterday to fill up the pit, but it was not until late at night that the difficulty was overcome. Through fear of a flood the workmen were withdrawn from several pits on Saturday. All along the stream the lower rooms of the mills and manufactories have suffered, the boiler fires have been extinguished, and the hands compelled to cease work.

Similar disastrous accounts, accompanied in several instances with reports of loss of life from drowning and lightning, reach us from other parts of Lancashire, as well as from Norfolk and Essex.

A Gunpowder Plot in San Francisco.

The central part of San Francisco was started last night, at eleven minutes past 12 o'clock, by a tremendous explosion, which seemed to the startled hearers like that of a powder mill, or of some large works at a distance. Owing to the lateness of the hour and stillness of the night, the report was heard for more than half a mile in every direction. Thoughts of another nitro-glycerine affair flashed across the mind of a Call reporter, who was returning home from his labors for the night, and he hastened in the direction whence the sound proceeded. Instead of discovering some mere accident, as he had expected, he discovered that one of the most diabolical outrages which it has been our lot to record for for some time past had been attempted on the lives of the inmates of a house on Pine street by some scoundrels, who endeavored to rush the guilty souls of those in the building into the presence of their Maker without a word of warning or preparation.

The house is situated at No. 532 Pine street, on the corner of Quincy, a small alley running parallel with Kearney street, near Dupont, and is kept by Fannie Woodward, and was formerly kept by Mrs. Palmer. The building is a large two-story brick, and extends back about sixty feet. On Quincy alley, about thirty feet from the corner, is another entrance, where are placed two strong doors, one on the street and the other about three feet inside a square hallway in the intervening space.

In the rear of the second door is a short passage, in which most of the damage was done. On the north and to the left of the entrance are two small rooms, one used as a parlor and the other as a bedroom. To the right of the entrance is a wine room, and further on a long passage leading to the Pine street door, and from which open two large parlors. The basement is occupied as a dining room, kitchen and store room, the latter being directly beneath the Quincy street entrance. The upper story is divided off into several rooms.

At the time above mentioned the inmates were startled by a loud explosion in the Quincy street entrance, and the deafening noise was made more terrible by the falling of plaster and ceilings. The whole house was immediately filled with smoke and the smell of burned gunpowder, and, to add to the confusion, all the gas was extinguished. The inmates appeared to be paralyzed with fear; but others shortly afterward arrived, and the gas was again lighted.

The scene which presented itself is hard to describe. The outside door on Quincy street had been smashed into hundreds of pieces, which were scattered all over the street. The casements of the windows had also been torn to shreds and the pieces were scattered on the floor. The passage running east was blocked by a pile of debris, consisting of plaster, glass, railings, &c., piled in confusion. The plate-glass, half an inch thick, on the floor, was broken into small pieces, and the skylight, eighteen feet above, was in the same condition. Scarcely a square inch of plaster was left on the laths, which were broken in many places. The parlor, to the north of the passage, was in a similar condition. A large and handsome wardrobe, with mirror doors, had been thrown to the ground and entirely demolished. A large mirror which hung against the wall had also been thrown to the floor, and broken into a hundred pieces. The handsome furniture did not escape, but added to the scene of destruction. The parlors near the Pine street entrance were also damaged, but not to such an extent as those in the rear of the building. The rooms up stairs were also shattered and stripped of plaster.

At the time of the explosion five persons were in the back parlor, and three others were in the basement, and the others were in the front of the building.

One of the inmates stated to our reporter that she was sitting on the sofa in the rear parlor at the time, and saw a light flash, which was immediately followed by an explosion and the fall of the furniture. At the same time a blast of heated air and gunpowder rushed into the room, completely blinding her at the time, and rendering her unconscious for the moment. All was darkness. The others gave statements to the same effect.—Upon examination of the premises it was evident that a torpedo, made of gunpowder, had been thrown into the hall between the two doors on Quincy street, with the intention of damaging the house, if not of murdering the inmates. The smouldering covering of the torpedo was found on the opposite side of the alley, but quickly burned out, leaving no trace from which to get a clear idea of its construction. The concussion was so great that it broke the transom over the Pine street door and carried away every inch of glass. The cause at present appears to be a mystery. A body of police, under Captain Douglass, arrived after the explosion and took possession of the premises. Thorough examinations of the premises were made by Captain Douglass, who will work the case up with all diligence. Miss Woodward, the keeper of the house, told our reporter that she had a suspicion of who the perpetrator of the deed was, but at present it is withheld from the public. The escape of the inmates was wonderful.—San Francisco Call, July 20.

Worse than War.

THE DEVASTATION OF THE SEWING MACHINE AND LIGHTNING-ROD MEN.

When I arrived at home, I found a team of dashing horses hitched to a couple of dwarf pear trees in the front yard, and a bright red wagon filled with ladders and things stood in the middle of a bed of fuschias and geraniums, a bull dog of the yellow variety and with teeth like a cross-cut saw smiled at me from the door step, while two men upon the roof were busy tearing off the shingles and driving hooks into the chimney. I made a careful detour and entered my house to find a black-whiskered chap, smelling strongly of patchouly, leaning lovingly over Angeline's shoulder, while she was engaged in practicing on a sewing machine. "What in the name of all that is cheeky does this mean?" "Ah!" replied old Patchouly, with a leer at my wife, "your husband, I presume. The fact is, sir, your wife (a devilish fine woman, by the way," has decided to purchase one of our double treadle, reversible needle, warranted not to rip, ravel nor run down at the heel sewing machines."

But I forbear—why repeat what followed? My entry in this journal to-day will be brief but to the point. I am wearing a saddle-rock oyster over my eye. Angeline is in tears and in bed with a strong odor of camphor about her person. But no "back action double treadle" sewing machine decks my house, and were it not for the trampled condition of my flower-bed and a few displaced shingles on the roof, one would never dream that two able-bodied lightning-rod men had attempted to go through me yesterday. I must organize for war, however, on the Prussian plan. Peace exists in our household once more. I have pacified Angeline on the sewing-machine question, and we have formed an alliance for offensive purposes against all enemies to our peaceful home and its happiness. A "small pox" sign kept the "agents" away for two days, but milkmen and postman also forsook us, and we were forced to take it down. Since then, by keeping the doors doubly locked and using a system of countersigns and rays when members of the family desired ingress or egress the obtrusive visitors were kept at bay.

How the Rattlesnakes Multiply and Replenish the Earth.

[From the Nashville American.]

About the 10th of May last Drs. Cardwell and Westmoreland captured at Prospect, in the lower edge of Giles county, near the Alabama line, a rattlesnake four feet three inches long and five inches in circumference. When captured it had eight rattles and a button. Since that time it has been confined in a glass case; it has not partaken of one particle of food, though it has been tempted with mice and other small animals on which the reptile is accustomed to feed. The snake manifested no inconvenience from its confinement, nor did it lose any in size or bodily vitality. Its eyes continued to glisten like magnetic steel, and its lancinating fangs to protrude at the appearance of any one near the case. Dr. Cotton thought all the while it was a male. Though small mice and rats have been confined in the case with the snake until their own hunger compelled them to bite at its scaly hide, the serpent refused to give them notice or to partake of the food. On two or three occasions it has taken small quantities of water. On Thursday at one o'clock on going into the back room of the store where the case is kept it was discovered that the snake had given birth to four young snakes, and by three o'clock she had given birth to three more, making seven in all. The young snakes made their appearance one at a time and in a coiled or striking position, their eyes glistening and their envenomed tongues continually darting out. The young ones are each from nine to fifteen inches in length, and in a state of perfect development. They are quick of motion and possess no ordinary spinal vitality, as they crawl readily to the top of the case and move with celerity across and around it from end to end. What is most singular and contrary to all the received notions concerning the reptile, each of these young snakes had a full button on the tail, which clearly refutes the idea that they have to be six months old before the formation of the button. The old snake was lying in her case in a lethargic state, with some indications, as the doctor thought, of increasing the coiling family. The young snakes coil around her, and under and over her, and she seems to have for them the maternal affection of instinct. This snake has been in captivity near four months, yet during all that period she has partaken of not a morsel of food, and has brooded her seven young. As to exactly how long from inception the process of gestation or incubation has been going on, there is no means of ascertaining, as we can only date from her captivity. Dr. Cotton informs us that he once before kept in the same case a large-sized rattlesnake for three years and nine months, and that he studied closely its various moods and changes. This snake, he says, did not partake of a particle of food for the first nine months, and but little water. He then gave it mice, rats, &c., putting the same into the case alive, and it commenced devouring them voraciously. It never would touch a tame mouse, or a dead one, fresh as it might be. When a young rat was put into the case it would plant its unerring fang in some part of the limb or body, and then wait until it died from the thorough inoculation of the poison. When quite dead it would turn it over, take it head foremost and swallow it, evidently drawing nutriment from the poison its own fangs had infused. It shed its skin twice a year—each spring and autumn—a new rattle appearing at each shedding, which explodes the popular notion that but one rattle comes a year. Yesterday morning the doctor took the case and placed it in the sun. From the effects of the sun three young ones died. Two others became stupefied, but recovered their vitality on being removed to the shade.

THE DAILY FREEMAN.

CITY OF KINGSTON, (RONDOUT.)

SATURDAY MORNING, AUG. 3, 1872.

The North Carolina Election.

The election in North Carolina was the first to occur after the nomination of Horace Greeley, and men of both parties looked for the result with intense interest as an indication of the drift of the current. As the administration was in possession of all the offices, from Governor down to canvassers, and had all the machinery of government upon its side, it was felt that it had to succeed and that by an increased majority, or else confess to a damaging reaction against it. Its forces were also vastly better organized than those of the opposition, while the whole effect of the Liberal movement was not felt, as the nominations were made before it had developed its full proportions.

In addition to these, and as indicating the great interest it had in the result, extraordinary exertions were made by the administration. A large share of the cabinet were sent down, and no stone was left unturned. In fact the efforts made were almost frantic.

Our midnight despatches show a Conservative majority of 6,000 to 10,000, there being gains in every county yet heard from. There seems to be no reason to doubt that the victory is a decisive one, and that the administration party has received a defeat whose effect will last through the entire canvass.

Greeley and the Insurance Men.

Our insurance men, on the average, are a respectable lot. In intelligence they can hardly be surpassed by any other class of people, having a general knowledge of the value of houses and goods, and are sometimes quite widely read in current literature and the news of the day. Insurance men have even been known to be acquainted with the classics, and quite frequently they have given utterance to wise and weighty words, and in their moments of relaxation from busy cares even to witty remarks.

It has therefore surprised us to learn that many of this respectable class are for Grant, not that they love Grant more but Greeley less. And it has puzzled us to account for it, until we were privately and confidentially told the reason. The fact is that Jake Thompson matter was too much for them. How can the insurance men vote for a man who actually would have set fire to New York city, if his plans hadn't miscarried. Why, the old heathen! Nero was a treasure to him.

It is becoming quite generally believed too that that old cow in Mrs. Leary's stable is a myth, or else she was hired to do it. To our mind the connection between that bovine's hind foot and the Philosopher's bald pate is as clear as mud, and the great fire of Chicago may safely be credited to Greeley, the Incendiary.

Of course no insurance man can be expected to vote for such a man.—Too risky by far. To think of such a man in the White House, with power to order a city or a few villages burned up for presidential diversion any fine evening, would be lacerating to the feelings of any sensible insurance agent. Grant may smoke, but when you come to fire Greeley is the man to ruin all the insurance companies in the country.

A Stitch in Time.

A correspondent very forcibly urges upon the city fathers the duty of taking active measures toward securing the location of manufactories in this new city of ours. So much has been said on this subject that it is in danger of becoming trite from over much treatment; but its importance is sufficient to lead us to disregard the danger of tiring our readers upon it.

We have alluded to the enterprise of Poughkeepsie in this line, and now have another instance to note.—Among the manufacturers whom the strikes awoke to the advantage of the country as a proper place to locate their manufactories were the Steinways. The Poughkeepsians, in pursuance of the plan they have long since adopted, made themselves aware of their intention as soon as they formed it, and perhaps even suggested it. So now we hear that the Steinways will manufacture at Poughkeepsie, whereby that city will reap a rich reward in increased trade.

The Erie shops at Jersey City burned down, and the smoke hadn't fairly cleared before Paterson and Port Jervis were bidding for the location of the new ones. Each offers a large sum, which would go far toward paying for the buildings.—Should either get what they seek, they will insure the immigration to their place of hundreds of workmen, with their families.

A wise policy and thorough wakefulness may secure for us establishments of the same kind. Let our Mayor and Common Council resolve into a Committee of the Whole on the subject, and good may result.

The American Coal Trade.

But few people appreciate the magnitude of the coal trade of the United States. In 1870 the am't sold was 19,957,535 tons, or a little more than two tons for every inhabitant in the land. Seward's Coal Trade Circular estimates a minimum increase in consumption since that time of 2,500,000 tons, but remarks that many claim it will be 3,500,000 tons in 1872. This not only arises from manufacturing sources but from the increased use of coal for domestic purposes. One writer is bold enough to say the consumption in American homes has doubled in five years.—We have no means of arriving at the accuracy of this conclusion, but have noticed the domestic trade hereabout has increased rapidly. Some are already borrowing trouble over an early exhaustion of the mines. To ease them we state that A. M. Atkinson, Supt. of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, informs us they have enough to last them three thousand years, which we think is all the time we need worry over. It would be wiser to watch the growth of the great companies who control this gigantic trade.

POLITICAL NOTES.

John A. Bingham failed to get re-nominated.

Wilson denies that he was ever a Know-Nothing.

The Germania, of Cleveland, O., comes out for Grant.

All the Sunday papers in Boston support the Woodchopper.

2,000 shipwrights of New York have declared for the White Hat.

"Greeley Farm-Houses" are very popular throughout the West.

Remember, oh reader, that Susan B. Anthony and Spotted Tail are for Grant.

A friend has made Greeley a life member of the American Missionary Society.

The Grant Republicans talk of nominating John Lyon, in this District, for Congress.

Dr. W. F. Scorsby says he is for the Cincinnati nominees and has been from the first.

Gen. Banks proposes to speak in New York soon on the financial policy of the Administration.

The Republican State Convention of Michigan has nominated John J. Bagley for Governor.

It is a noteworthy fact that comparatively few Republican Congressmen have declared for Grant.

The Green Bay (Wis.) Advocate, originally opposed to the Baltimore nominations, now accepts them.

Ex-Judge Foster has been talked of for Governor on the Grant ticket. He says he isn't for Grant.

Twenty-five colored men in the 18th Ward, Brooklyn, have come out for Greeley and formed a club.

Of the thirteen Republican Councilmen of Minneapolis, nine are for Greeley. His majority there will be 1500.

Sumner states to the reporters that he has received information that a large number of prominent Republicans will soon declare for Greeley.

The Tribune is after the Harpers for their caricatures of "old Abe" before the war, when they had a large circulation South. They don't like it.

It is reported from Saratoga that the Hon. Thomas G. Alvord, "Old Salt," comes out for Greeley. He is spoken of as a nominee for Lieut. Governor.

Gen. Philip Sheridan is reported by the Watertown (N. Y.) Dispatch to have peremptorily refused to address the Grant meeting in that city on Monday last.

The Liberal Republican movement in Dutchess is greater than at first supposed. It includes such strong men as Jacob B. Carpenter, ex-Sheriff Kenworthy and Whitehouse.

The Evening Post ("adm's") says George N. Sanders is preparing a letter denying any connection with Jacob Thompson on the Canada border. He only went to talk of peace. What will Grantees invent now?

The following is what the editor of the New York Times is sued for by Gen. Kilpatrick:

"Judson Kilpatrick, New Jersey—formerly Minister to Chili; tried to force an abandoned woman on Chilian Society, and was recalled. Has long been a reproach to the Republican party, and has now happily gone over to the Democrats."

Carpenter, the Otsego county Grantite, who swore to a string of absurd fabrications in regard to the contents of letters which he had seen in the hands of Lewis Carmichael, has come to the conclusion that he might have been mistaken in the matter. He swore that the letters were from Horace Greeley and Horatio Seymour, and that they both favored the paying of pensions to disabled Confederate soldiers. His statements having been contradicted at every point, he writes a Binghamton paper that he has been thinking he might be mistaken. Just so.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Josie Mansfield's mansion has been sold for $35,000.

An accidental fire damaged Beebe's spice-mills in Newburgh about $5,000.

Warren Leland thrashed a man at Long Branch on Thursday for insulting a lady.

A formal certificate is published of Joe Elliot's performance. Five timers certify that he made a mile in 2:15½.

A young lady of sweet sixteen is the author of the plan to supply Farmington with water. Oh! won't some sweet sixteen come to Kingston.

How fickle the people are! The same Parisians who tore down Thiers' house now intend to name a boulevard after him. Next month they may possibly hang him.

The Japanese Embassy are in New York seeing the sights. The merchants have them in charge. They have not yet called on the lion of the Times, Jennings. Too bad.

France is going to improve her railway transportation by adopting American cars. Electric whistles are to be adopted as signals instead of colored lamps, which are often rendered useless through fog or snow.

The public debt statement shows a reduction during the past month of $3,427,687.18. Decrease of the debt since March 1st 1872 37,754,841.54. Decrease of the debt from March 1st 1869 to March 1st 1862 $293,649, 762.03.

Six nice young men in New Orleans were nicely sold the other evening by six saucy girls. One of these beauties wrote a charming little anonymous note to all six of the young gentlemen, proposing a meeting at a restaurant. Each was to be dressed in a certain peculiar style, and each was to be eating a dish of shrimps. On the appointed evening, this little beauty and the five others, all dressed alike in the costume indicated in the letters sent to the young gents, started for the rendezvous. Great was the gathering at the appointment time of suitors, in costume, attitude and occupation strictly to orders. Very intently did each apply himself, unconscious of the close proximity to others who were similarly employed, to the demolition of the stated dish of shrimps, and on the watch out for the "woman in white." At last, when five, and finally six ladies, each in the specified costume, arrived, the astonished boys concluded each in his own mind that he had been sold, and each simultaneously, slowly and sadly got up, paid his shrimp bill and departed, evidently in no enviable frame of mind, and leaving the waiter and proprietor in a state of utter bewilderment as to 'what was up."

Associated Press Dispatches.

BY TELEGRAPH TO DAILY FREEMAN.

THE NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.

The news of the election in North Carolina is received with great eagerness by the multitudes gathered around the bulletin boards at the City Hall and the headquarters of the Republican, Democratic and Liberal Committees.

Schenck of Washington N. C., Republican candidate for Sheriff of Hanover Co. visited the rooms of the Republican committee and reported he had received a dispatch to-day informing him of his election by five hundred majority.

Last night's dispatches conceded this county to the Democrats. A dispatch from W. G. Mason to Col. Allen at Liberal headquarters states that Merrimon is elected by about six thousand majority.

A dispatch was received from Secretary Robeson at Republican headquarters stating that the Republicans carry North Carolina by a small majority.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.

A special despatch to the Patriot, dated Raleigh, N. C.—1 A. M., just received, confirms the large Conservative gains in the Eastern and Western counties. Cabarras County gives a Conservative gain of 233 over Shipp's vote of 1870. Leach is elected in the Fifth District. Caswell County elects a Democratic county ticket, and gives a large gain to the State ticket. The Republicans here have completely given up the election. Merrimon's majority is now estimated at 12,000, and the Legislature 73 Democratic on a joint ballot.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 2—3 A. M.

Returns from twenty-seven counties indicate positively the election of Merrimon, the Conservative candidate for Governor, six out of eight Congressmen, and sixty majority on a joint ballot in the Assembly, thereby electing a Democratic United States Senator in place of John Pool (Republican). The contest in the Fourth District is as yet doubtful, though the chances are in favor of Rogers (Conservative). The First District is also doubtful, but seven Conservative Congressmen are probably elected.

WILMINGTON, N. C. Aug. 2.

In Rockingham and Carteret Counties the Conservatives have gained. The Republicans have gained in Caswell County. The returns indicate the defeat of Settle for Congress. There seems to exist no reasonable doubt of Merrimon's election, by a decisive majority.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.

Judge Settle telegraphed to Postmaster-General Cresswell this afternoon saying he is elected with three other Republican candidates for Congress, and probably a fifth in North Carolina.

LATEST.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 2.

This city gives Coldwell, Republican, for Governor 982 majority. Halifax, one of the heaviest negro counties, gives a Democratic gain of nearly 500. The election of Waddel, Dem., to Congress, from the third district, is conceded.

The state has probably gone Conservative by from 6,000 to 10,000 majority. Nearly every county yet heard from reports Democratic gains.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.

The following dispatches were received to-night from North Carolina at the Liberal Republican and Democratic headquarters:

WELDON, N. C., Aug. 2.

The victory is complete. The majority will be over ten thousand. Signed,

M. W. RANSOM.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 2.

Rockingham county gives a gain of 300, and secures the election of Leach in the 5th district, and the defeat of Settle. Signed,

W. S. MASON,

Chairman Liberal Republican Committee.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 2.

Returns from Johnson county show a Conservative majority of 288; but Smith, radical, carised the county by 71. This makes the chances for Rogers very doubtful. We are sure of five members of Congress, and a large majority in both branches in the Legislature.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 2.

Merrimon is elected Governor, by from 5,000 to 10,000 majority. The Conservatives have certainly elected 6 of the 8 Congressmen, leaving the Raleigh district in doubt. It is thought that Rogers, Conservative, beats Smith in that district by about 100 votes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.

A Times special from Raleigh to-night says the indications are that the vote in the state will be close, and that Rogers Democrat, will be elected to Congress in this the fourth district. The Republicans claim the state. Returns come in slowly.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 2.

Merrimon's majority is variously estimated at from 5,000 to 10,000. The probability is that Smith, Republican, is elected in the Raleigh district by a very small majority. The Conservatives certainly elect 6 out of 8 Congressmen, and possibly seven.

RALEIGH, N. C. Aug. 3.

The result may be summed up about as follows: The Conservative State Ticket is elected by from 4 to 6,000 majority. Conservative Congressmen are elected in the 3d, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th district. Smith, Republican elected over Rogers in 4th District, by a majority of about 400. Thomas, Rep., elected in 2d district, with Carteret Co. doubtful. On the first district the Legislature will be largely Democratic on joint ballot.

JAPANESE BANQUET.

BOSTON, Mass. Aug. 2.

An elegant banquet was tendered the Japanese Embassy to-night by the Board of Trade. Alex. R. Rice, President of the Board presided. Speeches were made by Mr. Rice, Iwakura, Soogivoora, one of the Secretaries of the Embassy, Gov. Washburn, Judge Hand, Secretary Boutwell and others. Soogivoora delivered a very eloquent address, in which he alluded to the culture of Boston and the progress of Japan toward a more liberal education in literature, arts and sciences. The festivities closed about 1 o'clock. The Embassy sail for Europe next Tuesday.

AN INMATE OF A LUNATIC ASYLUM ADJUDGED SANE BY A U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

BURLINGTON, Aug. 2.

A hearing was had to-day before Judge Smally of the United States District Court, in the habeas corpus case of Col. J. A. Stackton of Pittsburg Pa., who recently escaped from the Vermont Insane Asylum after a confinement of 3 years. After a full hearing he was adjudged sane and discharged.

BARNARD IMPEACHMENT TRIAL.

SARATOGA, Aug. 2.

RICHARD C. BEMISH RECALLED.

Beach then addressed the Court at some length, asking if respondent (after the testimony that had been taken as issued in these orders) should not have the right to show if he can, that he acted from honest motives; that if he erred, it was from a mistake of law and fact.

Stickney replied, and the Chair put the question to the Court whether the objection to the evidence should be sustained; and it was decided in the affirmative by a vote of 17 to 14. Counsel then asked witness if he knew anything of the books concerning 9,500 shares being stolen. Stickney objected. The Court sustained the objection by a vote of 19 to 14.

Beach then offered to prove that the Board of Directors elected in the Ramsey interest proceeded to vote $100,000 to Ramsey without any just consideration.

Stickney objected and the objection was sustained, 20 to 13. Beach then said he did not think he ought to trouble the Court with any further efforts in this direction.

Stickney in the cross-examination only asked witness if what he had testified to was from his personal knowledge. Witness said it was.

John H. Comer sworn. He was for a long time private secretary to James Fisk Jr.—Witness then stated the circumstances concerning the child of Judge Barnard's. Fisk told witness he wanted to make a present of a piece of plate to the child as a Christmas present. I told him such a present would not be appropriate and that if I was going to make such a present I would make a deposit in a Bank to be kept there on interest, and let the child have it when it became of age. I also proposed that a letter be written to Mrs. Barnard stating the fact, and also a statement of the fact when the money should be paid to the child, or in case of the childs death the money should go to its brothers and sisters. This paper was attached to the bank-book. Witness read the letter to Mrs. Barnard, which was a simple statement of the presentation. Witness said, to his knowledge and judgment Barnard knew nothing of this present.

Counsel for the prosecution said they had no questions to ask except as to how many times he had seen Barnard in the Erie offices, and he said not over half a dozen times.

CONFESSION OF A MURDERER.

MAYVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 2.

At 10 minutes past twelve to-day Chas. Marlow was hanged in jail at this place for murder of Wm. Bachman at Jamestown Aug. 16th, 1871. The crime was one of the most revolting ever committed in Western New York. Bachman, a stranger, of whose antecedents nothing is known, made his appearance in Jamestown and professed to have large amounts of money in his possession. Two days later Marlow enticed him into a vault under his brewery, shot him and then burned the body of his victim in the brewery furnace. Marlow received two trials, the jury in the first trial disagreeing. On the second trial he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged March 29th. A stay of proceedings was served and the case taken to the Supreme Court, but a new trial was refused, and to-day was designated as the time for the execution. Throughout the trial Marlow expressed supreme indifference, and during his confinement preserved the same command over himself. He always denied his guilt until last night, when he made a full confession, conditional that it should not be made public until after his death. On the 18th of last month he attempted to kill the jailor and make his escape. Augusta Marlow, his wife, is in the same jail, under indictment for endeavoring to aid in her husband's escape by furnishing him a dozen watch spring saws in the heels of a pair of slippers. After dictating his confession last night he remained peaceful until morning, sleeping little at intervals. He refused to receive a clergyman, saying they could not send his soul to heaven or hell.

The trap was arranged in the corner of the second floor of the jail. Marlow was brought out at five minutes past twelve. He sat down on a low platform while Sheriff Harrington read the death warrant. He then took his place on the trap without the tremor of a muscle, and in a low but distinct voice said he was not directly guilty of the crime for which he was to suffer. He further stated he had made a full statement of all his knowledge of the murder in his written confession. He asked pardon of the Sheriff and his officers for the trouble he had caused them. At seventeen minutes past 12 Sheriff Harrington sprung the trap. The fall was seven feet, dislocating his neck and causing death without a struggle. The execution was conducted in the most perfect and law abiding manner. Marlow's confession was in effect that he admineitered strichnine to Bachman in the beer, and when it commenced operating on him struck him in the head with a hammer, in the cellar. He then burned the body in the brewery furnace.

General Garfield has written to the President inviting him to visit Cleveland at the time of the annual fairs in September. In his opinion Greeley has no prospect of making any serious impression on the strength and organization of the Republican Party. The reported letter shows no hesicancy or uncertainty which Liberal Republicans claimed in Garfield.

A dispatch from Springfield, Mass., says the wall of the upper level canal broke this morning at New Massoit paper mill. A breach was made 50 feet wide by 50 feet deep, extending 200 to the second level canal. The mill was partly undermined. Loss $25,000.

Sixty young officers have been dismissed from the Prussian army. They had obtained their commissions during the war for bravery in the field, and without having passed the ordinary examinations. They are now cashiered for not having succeeded since in acquiring the necessary qualifications for passing.

A. GOODRICH,

SEWING MACHINES & PIANOS.

Sewing Machines.

The hurly-burly of the Sewing-Machine war is ended. Various manufacturers have paraded their machines before the public, with a great flourish of trumpets and waving of banners In their eagerness to effect sales, the different agents resorted to all sorts of trickery to trap the unwary, and hundreds of farmers' wives, and farmers themselves, in this county, had forced upon them worthless machines in an unguarded moment. You, who have not yet made up your minds which to buy of the many machines offered, we advise to carefully examine into the merits of the "Domestic." Independent of its many good qualities, (and we believe it to be the best in the world) it is in the hands of a gentleman here, well known to thousands of our readers, who would not knowingly make false representations.—We feel justified in saying that we believe A. Goodrich fully satisfied himself, before taking the agency of the "Domestic" that it was perfect in all its parts, and that he could unhesitatingly recommend it to all.

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of years, having within that time treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my most matured appreciation of its value, based upon actual and witnessed realities. As a close observer, I have while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will at all times and under all circumstances act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who employs it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures—as if by magic and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, Female Weakness, and very many other chronic diseases incident to woman not mentioned here, in which, as well as in the cases which I have mentioned, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm in any state or condition. It will be found invaluable in diseases incident to pregnancy, and can be taken in moderate doses with perfect safety while in that state. Indeed, it is a Mother's Cordial, and so prepares the system for parturition that it renders child-labor easy. I have received the heartfelt praise from hundreds of mothers for the inestimable benefits thus conferred.

I offer my Favorite Prescription to the Ladies of America with the sincerity of an honest heart, and for their best welfare. Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in my TREATISE ON CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE GENERATIVE AND URINARY ORGANS, sent secure from observation upon receipt of two postage stamps. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to their management.

Coal Arrival.

On Friday 49 canal boats laden with 6,217 tons of coal reached tide water at Eddyville through the Delaware and Hudson canal.

Religious Notice.

Rev. Dr. Sloat, of Newburgh, will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church, upper Kingston, Sabbath (to-morrow) morning and evening.

Running Match.

"Pew," or Depew Davis, somewhat noted hereabouts as a runnist, billiardist and sport generally, will compete in a running match at Hall's Driving Park, Brooklyn, soon.

The Art Exhibition.

Our citizens should bear in mind Professor Cromwell's Art Exhibition next week. We speak from personal experience when we say that this is one of the most pleasing entertainments we ever witnessed. Get your tickets in advance.

Personal.

Alderman Bray has left town on a summer vacation. He will visit Canada, and will be absent about two weeks.

W. Bell, the well known artist from New York city, who spent the summer of 1870 at the Overlook Mountain House, is rusticating in this county. He will make his headquarters for a time in Upper Kingston.

Two Men Drowned.

We are informed that Patrick Kelly was drowned at Creek Locks on Friday afternoon by being drawn overboard by a tow-line, and that Patrick Tully fell overboard at Webster's Locks and was also drowned. Tully is a resident of this city. Kelly's residence we did not learn, and owing to the lateness of the hour at which the information reached us, we were unable to ascertain any further particulars.

Closing Out Sale.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Mr. Myer Weil, announcing a grand closing-out sale of his summer stock of dry goods. Mr. Weil's establishment is an old and familiar one here, and words of commendation from us are quite useless; but if one cannot find a complete assortment in the dry goods line there, we don't know where he could go for a better. And now, at the "closing-out," is just the time to get them way down in price.

A Good Medium

For advertisers will be The County Advertiser, which will be issued for distribution by Messrs. Melius & Edinger, during the Ulster County Agricultural Fair in September next. The volume will be one of forty-five pages, and will contain a list of the premiums awarded at the Fair, and other useful information. During the fair our city is visited by a large number of strangers, who depend principally on advertisements for information as to where to make purchases, and as The County Advertiser is intended for this express purpose, merchants and others will find it to their benefit to make use of its columns.

Fourth Ward Greeley & Brown Club.

A meeting was held on Friday evening at Lafferty's Hall, for the organization of a Greeley & Brown Club for the Fourth Ward. There was a full attendance. The following officers were chosen: President, Josiah Dubois, Jr. Vice Presidents, Con. Hallonan, John B. Tubby, Benedict Dreyfus, Joseph Mc Evoy, Joseph Rice. Recording Secretary, John Maxwell. Corresponding Secretary, Charles M. Preston. Treasurer, Charles Bray. Finance Committee, James G. Lindsley, M. J. Madden, Nicholas Matthews. Executive Committee, G. M. Emmett, F. W. Gross, James Gillen, Edward Mallory.

An Old Newspaper.

That great favorite, the Catskill Recorder, entered its eighty-first year on Friday last. No one would suppose from reading it that it is as old as that, for it is as fresh and lively as a young journal could possibly be. J. B. Hall, its level-headed editor, has had it in charge for twelve years, and has made it one of the best local papers in the State. There are few papers in the vicinity but have borne witness by that most potent testifier—the scissors—that its spicy items and witty paragraphs have been appreciated. The circulation of the Recorder has reached 2,000 copies, and is still increasing. We wish Mr. Hall and his energetic son and partner, Frazer C. Hall, continued success, and hope the FREEMAN will have the pleasure of announcing the next eightieth birthday of the Recorder.

Didn't Come.

Friday, August 2d, was the day appointed by the scientific chaps for the arrival of a huge comet, which was to "come it" over the earth by hitting the latter insignificant lump of dirt above the belt and knocking it off its pins, to the great demoralization of the denizens of this mundane sphere. Well, we looked for that comet; from early morn till dewy eve our eager eyes scanned the azure vault (only it wasn't very azure; the clouds were more of a dun color—and we were "done," too) of the great empyrean, ranging from horizon to zenith and down t'other side from zenith to horizon in search of the first indications of the fell destroyer. Our contemplations were sad; for we saw in our mind's eye the sudden collapse of the bright hopes of the nation and the world. "After the comet, what?" was the question sounding in our ears; and for answer we in imagination looked back upon the chaos it would leave; just on the expectation point concerning North Carolina; all the office-holders' "fat takes" removed at one fell swoop—and who dares picture the fate of the office-holders themselves?—the Alabama settlement nipped in the bud and John Bull left to crow to all eternity; and hosts of other transactions brought to an untimely end. This picture, in panoramic haste, passed before us, and we wept to think of the sudden winding up of terrestrial affairs; then set about writing up our account of the coming of the great fireball for the last issue of the Daily FREEMAN, previous to making our will. But the comet didn't come; and take it all in all, we're just about as well pleased as if it had.

CITY NOTES.

There were fewer vessels of all kinds in the creek on Friday than usual, and consequently tug-boat towing is dull.

Morgan Everson has the barge Relief out on his sectional docks, everhauling her. The former screw-boat George W. Pratt is also at his yard, having been dismantled of her engine and boiler.

The post-office in the eastern portion of the city is the scene of many wordy encounters during this season of political furor. Men boil over, their tempers run away with them, and the consequence is a squabble, after which the contestants feel bad until next day.

Safford & Carter's jewelry establishment, upper Kingston, is as fine a place for a visitor to spend an hour as any in town. Besides the numerous paintings, Mr. C. has a number of models of patents, mowing-machines, horse rakes, &c. The son of Mr. Safford has manufactured a handsome little side-wheel steamboat, with all the appliances to propel the craft by steam.

COUNTY.

Paltz Point is to have a telegraph line.

The Costello family give a concert in New Paltz on the 6th.

The New Hurley church proposes to purchase a $1,000 organ.

The people of Gardiner are well satisfied that there is money to be made in the milk business.

The New Paltz Times notes the death there of Mathusalem Elting, a prominent citizen, aged 72 years.

Our old people are passing away. Zenas Merritt died in Esopus last week at the ripe old age of 83.

The arrivals at Lake Mohonk are very numerous, and the beauties of Paltz Point are being enjoyed by many.

The New Paltz Savings Bank reports deposits $62,276.34. It has $35,553 invested in bonds and mortgages, and $19,200 in stocks.

We learn that the Episcopalians of Ellenville have reorganized their parish, with a view to placing the church in a more favorable position for growth and increase.

F. O. Norton is erecting a cement mill at his quarries near the fifth Binnewater. Mr. Norton has also purchased the farm formerly owned by Joseph Deitz, including the fifth Binnewater, but excepting the cranberry swamp of which Dr. George C. Smith and Mr. Deitz retain possession.

SAUGERTIES.

The Ancient Order of Foresters is a new organization in Saugerties.

The Telegraph says a new paper mill, of brick, is to be erected on the site of the one burned down.

A set of false teeth were found on the Mount Marion road the other day and await an owner in the hands of the finder.

The Hudson Star and the Register give accounts of a recent excursion from this place to Hudson. The Star denounces the party as rowdies, and the Register says they acted very gentlemanly. The Register probably tells the truth.

The notices served by the Board of Excise of this village upon the inn-keepers work admirably. A remarkable difference can be observed in our streets and hotels on Sabbath days. We are glad that our hotel-keepers are thus so prompt in the obeyance of our authorities, and have no doubt that in the end it will be a source of profit to them as well as a credit to the village.—Telegraph.

Paltz Point.

Many persons of this city lately have been visiting Paltz Point, and all speak in praise of the many improvements that have been made at that popular resort. New and romantic paths have been laid out, huge crevices have been discovered in the rocks that extend under the bluff or point a long distance. Arbors have been built for lovers, and those who may be wearied with exercise and in need of rest. The path that leads from the house to the Point has been changed. It now runs close to the precipice, so as to command a view of great beauty that changes at every step. On the Point an observatory has been erected, which contains pleasant rooms from which the landscape can be viewed with more comfort, if not in so public a manner, as when seated on the rocks. The lake we need hardly speak of, it is so well known. It is conceded by all to be one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the State. There is no lack of boats, or of scenery while paddling over its smooth surface. If the visitor has a good voice and wishes to sing, the rocks and gorges will catch and throw back the strains re-echoed a hundred times. Should there be a light moon at night, let the visitor by all means go on the lake. Under the deceptive light of old lunar, the trees and crags become so magnified as to fill one with an undefined fear that there is some witchery about the place. If he will look over the side of the boat into the water he will see a picture so lovely that all the imagery of the most imaginative mind could never call up one like unto it. And yet it is only the reflection of the mountain and sky above it.

If the pleasure-seeker has courage, let him take a skiff and go on this lake during a thunder-storm in the evening; he will then see a sight that will follow him in his dreams a lifetime. Our reporter viewed it once. It was black as the darkness of Egypt. The lightning flashes as they played around the summit of the mountain made the lake light with a lurid glare, and reflected on its clear surface every object so distinctly we could see the name we cut on the rocks nearly a mile distant, plain as though we were on the spot. The thunder made the crags shake as though they would topple over, roll down and crush us. It was a grand sight, but extremely dangerous, as the lightning strikes almost anywhere along this lake.

The piazza of the hotel extends over the water at one place, and if one would rush, he might take a dive from the roof of the building and reach for the bottom of this lake which is claimed to have none. The house is kept strictly on temperance principles. No liquor is sold, or allowed to be drank on the grounds or premises. There are many other restrictions which are somewhat irksome to young folks, but the people there are very pleasant. The meals are good, and the prices not exorbitant. There about two hundred guests at the house.

Southern Ulster.

The political aspect in Southern Ulster is indeed gratifying to all but the Superserviceables. While the Democrats almost to a man are doing yeoman's service in the cause of Greeley and Brown, mutterings of disappointment and discontent are heard on all sides in the ranks of the Grantites, and the desertions from the enemy are numerous and frequent. Conversations with friends from Marlborough, Plattekill, Esopus, Lloyd, and from all sections of our own town, furnish us with every encouragement to look for a brilliant victory in the coming Fall. In this town we count up some thirty Republicans who are now working for Greeley, and at Rifton we understand the Postmaster, C. T. Hazen, has left the old party and declared for Honest Horace. Thus it will be seen the good work goes bravely on.—New Paltz Times.

VICINITY.

The Neversink is going to run as an opposition boat to Troy.

Troy lost about one-thirtieth of its population by death last year.

The onion crop at Chester is reported to be larger than last year's.

Hudson is fast improving morally. They had a boat race on Sunday.

Goshen is crowing over corn thirteen feet and rye six and a half feet high.

The milk producers of the vicinity will hold a convention at Newburgh or Poughkeepsie in a few days. Milk going up?

Owen, of the Fishkill Journal, has returned from California, and is full to the brim of "What I know about California."

The Hudson Register calls the place where the editor labors the "sanction." This kind of phraseology beats Mrs. Partington.

The Newburgh papers keep up the "hoss war," at the rate of a column a day. The mare "Addie" is in a fair way to become famous.

The Port Jervis Yacht Club launched their beautiful craft, Flying Cloud, on "Lake Erie" on the morning of July 30th. There was a large crowd present.

A Hudson editor says that the advertising of patent medicines upon fences, stones and trees, has greatly marred the beauty of the Columbia county landscape.

Poughkeepsie is to have 20,000 feet of water pipes laid in addition to what is already down. The Poughkeepsians appreciate the value of water and want plenty of it.

The Newburgh Journal heads a paragraph "A Convention of Milk Producing Farmers." Have the Orange county farmers gone into "milk producing" in opposition to the cows?

One of Newburgh's aldermen, McCloskey, is Superintendent of a Sunday School in that city. Another one, Doyle, was mixed up in a free fight in a rum shop last Saturday night.

Hon. Bob Kidd's great campaign song, "How is the constitution, and how does she stand?" has been revived, with a few changes to suit it to the present campaign, in Newburgh.

A wise people are the Poughkeepsians. By judiciously giving Steinway two acres of ground and exemption from city taxes for two years, they have secured his mammoth piano factory.

The Coeymans Gazette has been bragging about some high old corn, but the unsuspecting readers have just found out that it was last year's corn, kept in a two-story French roof corn crib, ten feet from the ground.

There is a lively strife among the large towns along the Erie Railroad just at present, as to which can offer the greatest inducements to the company to remove the burned-out Jersey City machine shops to one of the said towns when the company rebuilds. Goshen, Middletown and Port Jervis are all after them.

The Binghamton Leader says: "At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland Railroad, some one took occasion to sound the members on the Presidential question. It was found that they stood twelve for Greeley and one for Grant. All but one voted for Grant in 1868." This is the road of which De Witt C. Littlejohn is President.

We are informed that on Monday morning a gentleman near Vail's Gate found a valuable horse which he owned with its entrails ripped out by a knife in the hands of some miscreant. A man with whom he had had some difficulty is suspected of the crime. The animal was owned by Mr. Michael Clancy, and was valued at a thousand dollars.—Newburgh Journal.

Westchester county is to have a nobby cavalry company, composed of the flower of Westchester's young men. In adition to a stunning uniform each youth will bestride a magnificent charger, each horse of the same size and color. We would suggest that they be armed with patchouly bottles, be compelled to part their hair in the middle and all be commissioned as Major-generals.

A party of Hudsonians have gone on an excursion up Long Island Sound and around Nantucket, in the schooner Minerva. They intend to be absent from home for fourteen days, and should have taken the reporter of the Star along, for his remark about the captain, "his right resting on the main gallant;" proves him to be a land-lubber of the most intense emerald hue, if he does reside on the banks of the Hudson.

Three young Trojans went a fishing in a boat upon the Mohawk, Sunday. The boat grounded on a rock, and, in their endeavors to get it off, one of the party lost his pocket-book, containing valuable papers. Another, becoming frightened at the prospect of the boat tipping over, cut a costly pair of high boots to pieces in order to get them off quickly, and thus free himself from those impediments to swimming. It will be some time before any one sees any one of those young men on the river on Sunday.

Camp Meeting.

The annual camp meeting at Wesley Grove, Neeleytown, will commence on the 14th of this month and continue ten days. Among others the following prominent speakers are expected to be present: Rev. J. S. Inskip, President of the National Camp Meeting Association, Rev. William McDonald and other trustees of the Association, Chaplain McCabe and Miss Sarah E. Smiley. We understand that there are several tents yet to rent, also that Charles Alsdorf, of Newburgh, an experienced caterer, will have charge of one of the boarding tents.

The other tent a gentleman from Goshen will have charge of. On the 8th inst., a number of families will be at the grove, and any one wishing to spend a few days there can be accommodated. Edwin N. Skidmore, of Newburgh, is secretary, and letters in relation to securing tents or other information will be attended to.

An Oriental Visitor.

We find in the Goshen Independent the following interesting item:

There is now staying in this village, at the residence of H. S. O'Hare, an oriental gentleman of very rare culture and attainments. He is a Syrian, and a Catholic priest—the Rev. Father Sabunji—and is master of eleven or twelve oriental and of three European languages. In his country the priests of the Roman Catholic church are permitted to have wives, provided they marry before they are ordained as priests. Father Sabunji's stores of oriental knowledge and literature make him a rare and delightful companion in conversation, notwithstanding his as yet somewhat imperfect mastery of our language. We trust his visit may be prolonged among us, and that he will at an early day give our citizens a lecture on Oriental Life and Customs, for which he is so eminently qualified.

It costs only one cent now to send a newspaper weighing two ounces to any part of the United States.

Tows.

The following tows left this port last evening:

Steamer New York to New York—schooners Harmon, E. G. Packer; boats Buffalo, Ulster, A. G. Kent, Mohunk, Flagstone, Mary, Bluestone, 7 coal boats, 2 wrecking boats; schooners Sea Lark, Union from Barnegat to to New York.

Klotts; boat P. Newcomer to Poughkeepsie; barge R. Miller to Livingston Point; John Darrow, and Pa coal boats to Newburgh; schooner Ada S. Allen to Hudson; Ice-barges Virginia, R. Parker to Rondout.

Attempt at Self Destruction.

Helen Cole, the wife of a boatman on the Del. & Hud. canal, attempted to commit suicide by swallowing an ounce of laudanum on Monday morning last, while on board of her husband's boat, which was in the basin at Honesdale.—Her intentions were discovered, however, in time to prevent serious results. The woman and her husband are both residents of the eastern district of this city.

Classic Names.

A plain farmer in Massachusetts who possessed a great fondness for ancient history, and who had spent many a long winter evening in its study, named his five children Cæsar, Augustus, Semiramus, Cleopetra, Statira and Monica. These children rejoiced in two cousins named Marcellus and Socrates. No Dutch names there.

Death of an Aged Minister.

Rev. Theodosius Clark, the oldest minister in the New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died at Sing Sing on Sunday last, at the age of eighty-six years. He joined the Conference in 1812, and completed his three score years as a member of that body. The funeral services were held on Tuesday, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Wakeley, of Newburgh.

A New Paper.

We have received the first copy of the Middletown News, a paper just started in that village in support of Greeley and Brown. It is meant, however, to be a permanent institution, and the first number exhibits considerable journalistic ability, containing a large amount of local news, written up in entertaining style. Its editorials are dignified articles in favor of the Liberal cause, and the new paper will undoubtedly make its power felt in the present campaign.

183,600 Machines per annum.

Many new machine companies have had their rise and fall—their machines once popular now scarcely known—others have made radical changes in order to exist; while the Howe Machine Company have adhered to the opinion of "Elias Howe, Master of Mechanics" ("The machine is mechanically correct; does not change"), built addition after addition to their factory, and to-day cannot supply the demand, although turning out six hundred machines a day—just a machine a minute.

FOR FAMILIES AND MANUFACTURES,

THE GREAT PRIZE:
Exposition Universelle, Paris, 1867.
Awarded over eighty-two competitors

The Highest Premium,

THE ONLY CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR AND GOLD MEDAL,

Given to American Sewing Machines, per Imperial Decree, published in the "Moniteur Universel" (Official Journal of the French Empire,) Tuesday, 2d July, 1867, in these words:

Elias Howe, Jr. { Fabricante de Machines a coudre exposant. Manufacturer of Sewing Machines, Exhibitor.

The Howe Sewing Machines

Are celebrated and known for doing the best work, using a straight and much smaller needle for the same thread than any other machine. They are adapted to any and all kinds of family sewing and manufacturing of every description, (from fine lace to patent leather,) making a beautiful and perfect Lock Stich, alike on both sides of the article sewed, and will neither rip nor ravel, and uses less thread.

Every machine is as near perfection as the best machinery in the world can make it. It is the oldest machine and has more improvements, and is nearer perfection than any other machine, the parts being exactly alike. If any of the parts need to be replaced, the operator can replace it, and it will outlast and outwear any machine made. They are remarkably simple and easily learned, sure in their operation, and almost impossible to break or get them out of order. They use any thread directly from the spool. The needle has a perpendicular motion, (absolutely necessary for heavy work,) runs easily, a fast sewer, and almost noiseless. They do not soil the dress of the operator, and do not have to be taken apart to oil and clean. The New Improved Family Machine cannot be surpassed and is without equal, and we CHALLENGE THE WORLD to produce a better machine on points of merit. A Hemmer, Feller, Gatherer, Braider, Quilter, Tucking Guide, and all the other necessary Tools go with each machine, free of charge.

☞ Beware of spurious and bogus Howe's. The undersigned is the only authorized Agent for the Genuine Howe Machine.
